The Native Hawaiian Student Pathway to Medicine (NHSPM) is a program of the Native Hawaiian Center of Excellence (NHCOE) at Department of Native Hawaiian Health, University of Hawai‘i John A. Burns School of Medicine (UH-JABSOM). The NHSPM program began in 2010 and guides Native Hawaiian students on their path to becoming future physicians and health professionals. The curriculum consists of workshops and individualized advising/career counseling for scholars who have a heart to serve Native Hawaiian communities and potential to be competitive medical school applicants. There will be opportunities to do community health work and to apply for funding to prepare for the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT).

NHSPM Scholars receive

- Workshop Series
  Topics include
  - Native Hawaiian Values, Knowledge, and Wellness
  - Advice from Native Hawaiian health professionals and med students
  - Navigating the med school application process, Mock interview feedback
  - Learning skills & strategies
  - Discussing Community health work: Inspiring Native Hawaiian youth to live healthy

- Individualized Advising / Career Counseling
  • Discuss diverse options in the health professions and your career path
